Support for the deletion of this limitation may be found in the specification, for example, at page 11, lines 11-15, where a general description of the cash to be included is provided. Various methods of calculating the amount of cash represent various embodiments of the invention, and exemplary methods are discussed in the text.

If the Examiner identifies any issue that is believed to prevent the Notice of Allowance, a phone call is requested.

Respectfully submitted,

Robert C. Slane
